

CNSTAT Public Webinar Series:
International Approaches to Conducting a Census in the 21st Century:
Statistics New Zealand
June 7, 2023
Presenter Biosketches

Christine Bycroft is a principal statistician at Stats NZ Tatauranga Aotearoa, New Zealand's official data agency. She has a background in mathematics, and has worked in official statistics for 25 years, including two years with the Office for National Statistics in the U.K. Christine has had a long involvement with the New Zealand census, with a focus on understanding administrative data and the potential for its use in the census context.

Nathaniel Matheson-Dunning is a senior design analyst at Stats NZ Tatauranga Aotearoa, New Zealand's official data agency. Nathaniel has a background in statistics and has worked at Stats NZ for over 10 years in the areas of demography and research into methods for using administrative data to derive the New Zealand population. He is currently working on the 2023 Census as the technical lead for including administrative data in the 2023 Census dataset.