Webinar: Industrial Decarbonization Options

February 8, 2022

1:00 – 3:00 pm ET

View online here.

This panel discussion will explore needs and opportunities for decarbonizing small- and medium-sized industrial companies; opportunities for biomass to serve as an energy resource and feedstock in the industry; ways to tailor industrial decarbonization strategies to different geographic regions; and policy options for industrial decarbonization. The event will consist of Q&A sessions with speakers involved in different aspects of industry with questions from the National Academies' Committee only.
