National Academy of Sciences Building
2101 Constitution Ave., N.W.
Washington, DC 20418

Attendee Information

This historic building hosts various symposia, lectures, and cultural events and art exhibits that are open to the public. Visitors can see the Albert Einstein Memorial and explore the building's interesting art and architectural features during normal business hours.

- Visitor Guide

If you registered for in-person participation, please enter the building from either the main entrance in the Front of the building (2101 Constitution Ave.) or secondary entrance located at 2100 C Street. Meeting attendees entering the building will need to show a photo ID to the Security Guard, who checks the ID against the registration. No signature needed. Attendees will be directed to the appropriate meeting room by the Security Guard.

While here please take time to see the Albert Einstein Memorial in front of the building and explore the building's interesting art and architectural features.

Food and Drinks:

There is no food or drink allowed in the auditorium. Available areas for eating and drinking include almost anywhere else in the building. The Lecture Room has been reserved for lunch as a place for eating. The cafeteria on the basement level can also be used as a place to sit and eat.

Please note the cafeteria is not full service. There is a small automated market in the lower west side of the building that serves drinks, snacks and premade food for a charge. Microwaves are available in the cafeteria for heating up lunches, but refrigeration is NOT available for storing food.

For food options outside of the building, please use your phone map application to find nearby options.

Parking:

Visitor parking is free and provided on a first come, first serve basis in designated spaces at the NAS Building in the surface parking area off 21st street. Pull up to the gate off 21st Street, NW and notify the guard you are there to attend a meeting. You may be asked to complete the information on the visitor parking tag. They will direct you.

NOTE: Currently due to construction, it can only be accessed from the north via Virginia Ave - the Constitution Ave intersection is closed for northbound travel.

If parking capacity is exceeded overflow is directed to public parking garages. The public parking facilities closest to the NAS Building are Colonial Parking (20th Street, NW, between E and F Streets) and Columbia Plaza (23rd and Virginia Avenue, NW).

Taxis serving the NAS and the State Department are usually parked along 22nd street and available throughout the day.

Wi-Fi

Free Wi-Fi is available throughout the Keck Center and the NAS Building. Open Connect to a network by opening the Wi-Fi. In the list of available wireless networks, choose the visitor network and click connect. Open a web browser and go to: http://www.nas.edu when the Login Page appears, click Access the Internet. No password is required.
