

Maternal Health Disparities: The Women Behind the Data

A 5-Part Webinar Series

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 2024

AGENDA

Purpose

This event is the fifth and final public webinar organized by the Standing Committee on Reproductive Health, Equity, and Society of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine with support from the Global Forum on Innovation in Health Professional Education. Topics for discussing maternal health disparities are framed by the social determinants of health, in areas such as mental health, the work of doulas, implicit bias, community-based organizations and models, active-duty service women, and trust in health care. A proceedings-in-brief, Maternal Health Disparities: The Women Behind the Data, will be published by National Academies Press summarizing the five-part webinar series.

In this webinar, speakers will discuss the importance of earning the trust of persons served within maternal health care and leveraging health professional education to raise awareness of the problem and propose potential solutions. The session will be publicly broadcasted HERE.
