THE POLITICAL DETERMINANTS OF HEALTH Involve the systematic process of...

STRUCTURING RELATIONSHIPS

(Redlining (HOLCA), anti-miscegenation laws, blood quantum requirement laws, immigration laws steeped in racist ideology, policies preventing children with disabilities from receiving an education in schools, accessible housing, federally recognized versus non-federally recognized tribes, civilized vs. noncivilized categories of tribes, etc.)

DISTRIBUTING RESOURCES

(Appropriations of federal, state and local discretionary and nondiscretionary funding and programs, health services, special education, home and communitybased services, social services, COVID testing kits, vaccinations, ventilators, treatments, personal protective equipment, etc)

ADMINISTERING POWER

(Redistricting, gerrymandering, including restricting ballot access, voter suppression tactics, voter identification laws, purging voter rolls of irregular voters, minimizing opportunities for early voting, closing or moving polling places, penalizing groups involved in voter registration drives, etc.)

Source: Dawes D. The Politice Determinants of Health. Johns Hopkins University Press; 2020

Source: Dawes D. The Political Determinants of Health. Johns Hopkins University Press; 2020.

Satcher Health Leadership Institute

