

The Roles of Trust and Health Literacy in Achieving Health Equity
A Workshop Series

Meeting #1: Clinical Settings

AGENDA | September 22, 2022
1:00 – 2:30 pm Eastern Time

Workshop Objectives | This series of three virtual, public, workshops will explore how employing health literacy principles might contribute to improving trust in health institutions, and thereby to addressing health inequities. Each of the three workshops will focus on the role of health literacy and trust in a particular setting:

- Clinical settings
- Public health institutions
- Community organizations

The first session will focus on clinical settings and the patient-provider relationship.
