

Committee on Policies and Programs to Reduce Intergenerational Poverty

Virtual Public Information Gathering Sessions:
Intergenerational Poverty and Mobility Among Native Americans in the U.S.

July 22 12:00-2:15pm ET | webcast here

July 25 12:00-1:15pm ET | webcast here

FRIDAY, JULY 22, 2022 (Day 1)

SESSION I

Objectives

To engage experts and leaders from Native American communities and organizations so they may:

- Offer a landscape view of intergenerational poverty and mobility in their communities and among the populations they work with;
- Discuss key barriers and obstacles they see affecting Native American families that are reducing the chances their children grow up to be happy, healthy and prosperous adults;
- Discuss any promising tribal efforts, including programs, models, community-led responses, that support upward economic mobility for families and the next generation;
- Shed light on the resilience and strengths of Native American communities to address intergenerational poverty.

12:00pm-1:15pm

A CONVERSATION WITH TRIBAL LEADERS ON INTERGENERATIONAL POVERTY

KEVIN KILLER, President, Oglala Sioux Tribe

CHERYL CRAZYBULL, President and CEO, American Indian College Fund

JUDITH LEBLANC, Director, Native Organizers Alliance

Facilitator: JOE HOBOT, President and CEO, American Indian OIC

SESSION II

Objectives

To inform the committee on:

- Empirical dimensions of intergenerational poverty and mobility of Native American populations in the U.S.;
- High-priority gaps in the data needed to help develop effective policies for reducing intergenerational poverty among Native Americans;
- Key historical and structural factors that have shaped economic opportunity and mobility for Native Americans.

1:15pm-2:15pm

INTERGENERATIONAL POVERTY AND MOBILITY AMONG NATIVE AMERICANS: DATA & TRENDS

C. MATT SNIPP, Burnet C. and Mildred Finley Wohlford Professor in the School of Humanities and Sciences; Director, Institute for Research in the Social Sciences's Secure Data Center, Stanford University

EMILIA SIMEONOVA, Professor, Johns Hopkins University, NBER

Facilitator: GREG DUNCAN, Committee Chair

Public Information Gathering Session: Intergenerational Poverty and Mobility Among Native Americans in the U.S.

MONDAY, JULY 25, 2022 (Day 2)

SESSION III

Objectives

To inform the committee on:

- Correlates and drivers of the perpetuation of poverty from childhood into adulthood among Native Americans in the U.S., including structural factors contributing to intergenerational poverty;
- Promising policies and programs, and their supporting evidence, to reduce the chances that Native American children will be poor as adults;
- High-priority gaps in the research, on drivers and interventions of intergenerational poverty among Native Americans, needed to help develop effective strategies to reduce intergenerational poverty in this population.

12:00pm-1:15pm

A CONVERSATION WITH RESEARCHERS:
DRIVERS AND INTERVENTIONS OF INTERGENERATIONAL POVERTY AMONG NATIVE AMERICANS

MATT GREGG, Senior Economist, Center for Indian Country Development, Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis

MEGAN BANG, Professor, Learning Sciences and Psychology, Northwestern University; Senior Vice President, Spencer Foundation

BETH REDBIRD, Assistant Professor, Department of Sociology, Northwestern University

KARINA L. WALTERS, Professor, Katherine Hall Chambers Scholar, Co-director, Indigenous Wellness Research Institute, University of Washington

Facilitator: STEPHANIE FRYBERG, Committee Member

1:15pm

ADJOURN